EUROPEAN MODERN

Inspired by art, architecture, and the natural world, timeless designs merge minimalism with elements of mid-century modern for a bold aesthetic that feels collected over time. A juxtaposition of linear and organic forms adds depth and allure in an unexpected mix of materials, fabrics and finishes.

WITH THE GRAIN

A natural work of art, spalted maple is prized for its seemingly hand-drawn lines and unique colorations formed from a symbiotic relationship between fungi and wood. Digitally printing this intricately patterned wood grain on maple veneer integrates an organic arform with new technology to beautifully capture what nature creates randomly.

Contemporary artist Iris Liu painted Silk Road at her home art studio in Los Angeles, California.

ART, FORM & FUNCTION

Inspired by Silk Road, an expressive portrayal of the infamous road from Xi'an to Constantinople painted by artist Iris Liu, this beautifully rendered console and side table blurs the lines between fine art and furniture design. The original artwork was digitally printed and hand-applied to each piece in a way that elevates its form and function, while introducing vibrant color and a graphic element.

FUNCTIONAL ART TELLS A STORY AND INFUSES A SPACE WITH PERSONALITY.

Composed of five panels, the pentaptych wall art prominently hangs in the lobby of the Markor Art Center, located in High Point, North Carolina.

MATERIAL MIX-UP

Mixing materials creates tactile appeal, for a work of art that's beautiful, durable, and most of all, memorable. From glinting metallics and antiqued mirror, to lustrous cut-velvet and the smooth sheen of stone, details define a piece of furniture. The exquisite layering of wood with metal and polished marble, glass and acrylic creates dimension and engages the senses.

Our Served With A Twist bar cabinet artfully mixes neoclassical elements with mid-century modern design. A mirrored, lit interior features drawers for linens and entertaining essentials, adjustable glass shelves, and a removable tray for serving.

NEXT IN LINE

A key element of design—whether horizontal, vertical, or diagonal—lines impact how you perceive a space and the forms within. From establishing harmony and balance, to lifting the eye and adding height, linear designs generate movement and create visual interest. When prominently featured, lines make a statement that can be artful and dynamic, or calm and grounding.

THE OMBRE EFFECT

Artful and alluring, gold and silver leaf finishes are meticulously applied by hand to create a gradual shading from dark to light. The result is a captivating color gradation that makes a dramatic impact. Perfectly imperfect, each piece is subtly varied and unique, for a focal feature that adds depth and character to modern interiors.

CURVE APPEAL

Whether subtle, like the cylindrical-shape of a drawer pull, or more overt, like a classic kidney-shaped sofa, curves create a sensory experience. Often inspired by forms found in nature, curves guide the eye and soften straight, angular lines. A well-designed curve can be seductive or quietly alluring, with the power to captivate and offer comfort.

PATTERN PLAY

Whether understated or a bold focal feature, patterns play up the innate geometry and shapes within a space for a sense of balance and symmetry. GINKGO LEAF

Symbolic of perseverance and hope, the distinctive fan-shaped leaves of the ancient Ginkgo tree have inspired artists and poets for centuries. The shapely Ginkgo leaf lends a singular beauty—with delicate notched lobes and rippled veining—embellished upon to create movement, repetition, and organic geometry.

RELAXED & REFINED

Memorable and of the moment, casual glamour reimagines traditional designs to capture the essence of luxury and livable comfort. Offering a more elevated take on casual style, organic forms and natural textures converge with elegant finishes and fabrics to create fashionable interiors for relaxed living.

You and your guests can float through dinner suspended on thin, clear acrylic legs accented with Whisper of Gold metal ferrules. I'm Floating! is a natural selection for rooms that need a breath of fresh air.
